

Title: Sharing Threats, Indicators, and Warnings between USTRANSCOM and Industry

Abstract: Instructors will discuss new efforts to working with government and commercial partners to improve the timely exchange of information, cybersecurity, resilience, recovery, and mission assurance across the transportation enterprise, which includes Government, DoD, and commercial networks.

Organization: USTRANSCOM J6 and J3

Website: <https://www.ustranscom.mil>

Speakers:

Joseph (Jerry) Cronin. Mr. Cronin is the Chief Information Security Officer, Command, Control, Communications, and Cyber Systems Directorate, USTRANSCOM, Scott Air Force Base, Illinois. Mr. Cronin serves as the USTRANSCOM senior cybersecurity advisor on key externally-facing cybersecurity issues. His current efforts include working with government and commercial partners to improve the cybersecurity posture across the transportation enterprise, which includes Government, DoD, and commercial networks. His email is:

joseph.g.cronin2.civ@mail.mil

Maj Christopher Moyano. Major Moyano, USAF, works in the USTRANSCOM Commercial Industry Branch. He coordinates the commercial information exchange within USTRANSCOM and briefs operational impacts. Maj Moyano is key to the new whole of government initiative to exchange information within government and the commercial community. His team's efforts will share best practices, threats, and vulnerability information to help ensure uninterrupted commercial operations to government. His email is:

christopher.d.moyano.mil@mail.mil

Lt Col Chad Biehl. Lieutenant Colonel Chad R. Biehl, USAF, is the USTRANSCOM J3 Commercial Industry Branch Chief. He is a traditional reservist and is permanently assigned to, and on-loan from, the 954th Reserve Support Squadron, the Air Force Element of the Joint Transportation Reserve Unit (JTRU), a Subordinate Command of USTRANSCOM. Lt Col Biehl rounds out the Total Force Team of the J3 Commercial Industry Branch consisting of active and reserve personnel as well as an interagency Liaison representative. He is currently responsible for facilitating the stand-up and validation of the Commercial Industry Branch's full operating capabilities and is heavily involved in USTRANSCOM's collaborative information sharing effort as a member of the Command's 4th Component Information Sharing High Performance Team. Prior to his current assignment, Lt Col Biehl served as Chief, JTRU J3 Operations and Planning Division. While on active duty, he was a C-21 and MC-130 pilot and currently works as commercial airline pilot for a major U.S. carrier when not on military status.

Session POC: Maj Christopher Moyano, christopher.d.moyano.mil@mail.mil, 618-220-7522, USTRANSCOM

NDTA Transportation Academy Coordinator: Irvin "Irv" Varkonyi, NDTA HQ, ivarkonyi@ndtahq.com, 703-863-9686, Skype IVarkonyi, Fairfax, VA

DoD Transportation Academy Coordinator: Tim Ringdahl, USTRANSCOM, timothy.p.ringdahl.ctr@mail.mil, 618-220-4126, Scott AFB, IL