

Government Passenger Travel Advisory Council (GPTAC), National Defense Transportation Association Committee Member Role Guidelines:

What is the Role of the Committee Member?

Participating in a committee for GPTAC is a key role in NDTA. A member must take an active participatory role in the charter and mission of the committee they serve on. These expectations include:

1. Attending meetings that are scheduled by the Chairperson of the committee, no less than 6 times per year.
2. Playing an active role in the committee by contributing to discussions and engaging with industry and government collaborators.
3. Acting as a voice of industry by participating in relevant, thought leader perspectives that allow the committee to act as a voice to membership and government stakeholders.
4. Fostering collaboration with government representatives and industry peers in order to provide insights so that effective decisions are made and carried out.
5. Participating in agreed upon actions by the committee.

Committee members are appointed by the Chairperson of each committee, and the seat is an individual appointment, and not an appointment of an organization where more than one person carries out the duties and responsibilities.

A committee member within the Government Passenger Travel Advisory Board (GPTAC) must be a Sustaining Member or higher in good standing.

For more information on membership fees, please outreach to Lee Matthews at NDTA.
